great things about your wiki project

The videos really inspired us to investigate more into the future of mobile phones because they really are interesting and they have most fascinating designs.

There are lots of great images especially the one about the bag phone - love it.

There was a lot of information that really helped heaps even though it took ages to read.

suggestions for improving your wiki project

Your group should communicate more and talk in the discussion.

You could improve your questions on communication and collaboration maybe.

piece of new knowledge that our group has thanks to your wiki

We will no longer need an ipod because a new and better iphone will replace it.
